Industry Intelligence and Benchmarking. AAAA has commissioned two new research projects:

1. Car owners: Stuart Charity will present the results of a survey of 1,500 Australian car owners. Find out how customers decide which workshop to visit, the importance of price, views on fixed price servicing, perceived differences between independent and dealer workshops and lots more.
2. Workshops: Lesley Yates will present the results of the most recent study of independent repairers including workshop benchmarking data to explain how workshops are performing in this changing climate.

Numbers are limited so make sure you register early. You are most welcome to invite your colleagues from the industry as your guests to this forum for the automotive industry.
