On behalf of the National Council of the Australian Automotive Aftermarket Association, we invite you to join fellow AAAA members for an industry networking event.

Luke Truskinger, Project Manager for the Automotive Innovation Lab, will update members on the status of this exciting new project. After 5 years of investigations and lobbying, funding was finally secured to establish 'The Lab'. The final months of 2018 were dedicated to an industry consultation process to understand what services the lab should offer. AAAA members have greatly assisted the scoping of the lab and we are excited to say that the feedback has been very positive.

An update will be provided on the lab project, the expected services to be offered, and targeted timing. A Q&A session will follow where members are invited to request more detail and provide input to the lab.

You are most welcome to invite your colleagues from the industry as your guests to this forum for the automotive industry.
